

Dayton Historical Preservation Committee (DHPC) Meeting of 24 February, 2015 minutes.

In attendance: Clark Cole, Amos Gay, Bill and Dixie Harris, John Coniaris, Meg Gardner.

Meeting called to order at 6:35 pm.

Officers reports remain unchanged since 02 December, 2014 meeting.

Clark Cole obtained the treasurer account books and will secure them at Dayton Town Office until a liaison or newly elected treasurer is in established or selected by the Dayton Selectmen.

The DHPC which requires 5 committee members is now searching for 2 members. The members in attendance will attempt recruiting new members.

Amos spoke with Rod's Electric regarding work at the school house and thus far received no response. Amos advised that Jim Roberts suggests the DHPC search for another electrical contractor which Amos agreed to inquire of.

DHPC banner update: John obtained a quote from The Graphics Co-op in Alfred, ME. A 6'x30" banner with black text, find us on facebook logo and grommets for the sum of $20.00. It was suggested by Amos to include a banner border. Additional suggestions: one of more quotes from other establishments and a printed prototype so members can decide on a final banner. John agreed to take this on.

All outdoor activities have been put on hold due to inclement weather conditions. However John spoke with Turner Rumery who is still interested in resuming painting of The Franklin-Dow School in the spring.

The next scheduled meeting of the DHPC is Tuesday, 28 April, 2015 - 6:30pm at Harris Farm.

Meeting adjourned at 7:23pm.

Respectfully submitted,

John Coniaris - DHPC chair.
